WEALTH BELONG TO PRODUCER THEREOF

EDITOR FRED. D. WARREN ENTERTAINS LARGE AUDIENCE AT THE AIRDOME

Fred. D. Warren, former editor of the Appeal to Reason, spoke last night to a crowded house at the Airdome and kept his audience in close attention to the moment of adjournment.

Mr. Warren spoke on material facts and did not indulge in any of the sophistry of Socialism. From the very first he contended that the fruits of the earth are for the producer and invoked statistics to prove that Nevada would be the most ideal place of residence had the people kept at home the money derived from the mines instead of allowing owners to squander the worker's earnings in riotous living in distant towns.

Referring to the pending election, the speaker declared the Socialist party, with the 10,000 new votes enrolled through suffrage, would have an even break with the two old parties and he urged his audience to remain staunch and firm in their belief that the state of Nevada might be developed into a grand co-operative commonwealth, where wives and children could be safeguarded against the menace of preparedness and militarism as the mountaineers of Switzerland were fortified against the encroachments of Europe.

DEATH OF AUSTIN PIONEER IS UNIVERSALLY DEPLORED

News of the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Dalton, who passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Luella D. Butler, in Sparks last Tuesday, will be received with general sorrow by those who had the pleasure of knowing deceased.

Mrs. Dalton for many years was a confined invalid, but during all her trials she never lost her unflinching good humor and cheerful disposition. The family will be recalled as having lived at Eastgate, in Lander county, during the '70s and '80s.

Mrs. Dalton was the wife of Wm. T. Dalton and was one of the pioneers of Nevada.

Deceased was born in Gloucestershire, England, February 8, 1837, and was 79 years of age at the time of her death.

Mr. and Mrs. Dalton were married in London, England, in December, 1860, and immediately came to New York, where they resided for a few years. They crossed the plains in 1863 and settled at Austin, Nevada. They made their home in Nevada ever since, the last ten years having lived with their daughter.

STRIKES WATER IN CITY

John Legate, who lives at the old Musgrove home in the northwest part of town, has been for some days drilling an artesian well. He started one and bored down 180 feet without getting a flow, and decided to try in another place. The machinery was moved about 100 feet to the south and a new hole was started yesterday morning. Before the close of business last evening he received word from his home that water had been struck, with every prospect of a good flow.—Carson City News.

EXTENSION IS GOING TO 1900 FEET

through such a cause, a great concrete easement has been placed in the north crosscut and a heavy door placed in readiness to swing shut if there should be any rush of water, holding the flow until it could be handled without cessation of work in any other opening.

Two workings are going out to the north and northwest from this station. The crosscut to the After All is out nearly 200 feet and the north-west crosscut is being steadily advanced. It cut a ledge several days ago in the adit. It is a couple of feet wide and is of commercial grade. This gives the Extension the credit for developing the most northerly ore body thus far found in the district. Superintendent Higgins says that this find has great significance.

The station hoist for sinking three hundred feet deeper in the Victor shaft is now being put in position. Actual deepening will begin some time between the 20th and 25th of August. Meanwhile this level is being used for the extraction of about 150 tons weekly for the Extension mill, relieving the stress that was placed for a month or more on the No. 2 shaft, the only opening to the Extension ore bodies that could be utilized while the Victor shaft was being retimbered. The Murray vein is a center of interest. Drifts have been run for several hundred feet along both the hanging and foot walls, with several connections between the workings. Now a raise is being put up and within a few days the 1540 will be in shape to produce several thousand tons of ore weekly if necessary, but it will not be found necessary for some time, as the development work gives the mill all it can handle, even with its increased capacity.

The Murray vein is to be worked by square setting, filled in with gob, which will obviate the necessity of hoisting any considerable amount of waste from the mine.

TONOPAH PROTESTS AGAINST REDUCTION OF NAVAL BILL

In response to advices from Washington stating that strong efforts were being made to cut down the appropriation for a greater navy, the following protest was wired to Congressmen Roberts in Washington:

"Having heard of the pressure that is being brought to bear in House to alter provisions in the naval bill recently passed by the Senate, we urge no surrender to small navy men and demand the strongest support to exact provisions of the Senate bill."

PUNCTURED SKULL FALLING ON ROCK

WHILE CHASING DAUGHTER MAN SUSTAINS WHAT MAY PROVE FATAL INJURIES

Angelo Bangelisti was taken to the County hospital with the brains oozing out of his head through a ragged fracture in the frontal bone and the doctors say there is little hope for his recovery.

About 7:30 o'clock this morning Bangelisti became enraged at some remark of his daughter, aged 20, and, seizing a huge knife, started after the woman, who sought safety in flight. In running, the father tripped on the rough ground and fell face down with a sharp rock striking directly in the center of his forehead and breaking a hole through which the brains ran out. Dr. Masterson was called and ordered the injured man removed to the County hospital, where a square inch of the bone and some of the brain matter were removed.

Bangelisti has been working for the Belmont, but for some time has been insanely drunk and constantly quarreling with his daughter, whom he is said to have repeatedly threatened with death. He is aged about fifty.

OPTION ON DUNLAP MINE NEAR MINA

EXPERTS EXAMINE OLD COPPER PROPERTY OWNED BY TONOPAH MEN

S. A. Knapp, of Berkeley, Cal., accompanied by H. L. Huston, a prominent mining engineer of San Francisco, were here this week making an inspection of the Dunlap mine, about 12 miles east of here, says the Western Nevada Miner. The Dunlap property of the Nevada Copper company, the majority of the stock of which is held by officials of the Tonopah Mining company and the minority stock by Geo. F. Thompson, Robert Stewart and others.

Mr. Knapp holds an option to purchase the property and has had a force of mining engineers and assistants at work sampling the mine. The deal is said to represent a figure in excess of $150,000 and is of great importance to the future of Mina. A great deal of development work has been done on the property, the lower tunnel having been driven ahead for a distance of 1400 feet. Other workings, in the form of short tunnels, shafts and drifts, have been completed which have produced good showings of ore. The ore outcrops strongly on the surface between 600 and 700 feet in width. The property is well equipped with mine buildings for the accommodation of employees, blacksmith shop, air compressors, machine drills and plenty of water to carry on the extensive operations planned.

Mr. Knapp was one of the big mine operators here in the early days and was a pioneer resident of Hawthorne and conducted the mercantile establishment now operated by Adams & Miller. He has been residing in Berkeley, Cal., for the past few years, but has always retained a warm spot in his heart for this part of Nevada. Mr. Knapp predicts a great future for the mining industry of Mineral county and is back in the game.

AMUSEMENTS

BUTLER THEATER

One of the most striking and realistic western scenes ever filmed was taken in the production of the new western drama, "Blue Blood and Red," which will be the feature at the Butler this evening. It is a typically western drama that has been prepared for the screen; one which will abound with thrills and fraught with the atmosphere of the plains. There is an actual western round up shown in "Blue Blood and Red"—all kinds of cowboy sports are shown, and real cowboys and cowgirls assist George Walsh and Doris Pawn in this western drama. Walsh, young, handsome and strong, a Jamestown university man and a crack amateur athlete, is playing the lead in this production, and Miss Doris Pawn, a new Fox star, plays opposite. On the stage Walsh would be a matinee idol. The picture is one of the best western dramas that has ever appeared on the screen and everyone should see it. The first of the athletic series will also be included in tonight's program. Tomorrow, Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne in "The Wall Between."

WESTERN PACIFIC BRANCH

Two corps of Western Pacific engineers will be placed in the field shortly to survey the proposed feeder lines of the Western Pacific from Wells to Twin Falls and Idaho Falls.
